DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on September 18, 2002. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1-6, 9-10, 12-22 and 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chitale et al. P.N. 6,646,437.

Chitale et al. (Chitale) discloses a system and method for clay typing using NMR.

Applicant's attention is directed to Fig. 13 and corresponding description. A model of the formation is developed for a NMR response and predicted data from this model is generated or synthesized at flow chart element 14. The synthesized data is compared with actual NMR data measurements at block 16. As a result of the comparison an algorithm is used to optimize or adjust the formation description or model. See col. 16.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 7-8 and 11 and 23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hou et al. and Prammer disclose NMR logging methods for the study of earth formations. Note the abstract of each of the disclosures.
